A three-day symposium where participants will:

- Gain an understanding of the impacts trauma has on a child's development and family wellness
- Expand knowledge of infant-family and early childhood mental health practices
- Learn how to further our capacity as a community to better support families
- Cultivate community relationships and networking with other parents and professionals

This year's Children's Mental Health Summit will be enhanced by a partnership between First 5 Humboldt, 0 to 8 Mental Health Collaborative and the Child Abuse Prevention Coordinating Council
